

Salvation Army Annual Drive Off To Good Start On Sunday

The intensive drive for funds for the Salvation Army's annual Greater Boston appeal got off to a good start on Sunday, with the members of the capable committee headed by Mrs. Herbert O. Alderson, residential chairman for Arlington, completing the organization of district leaders to supervise the solicitation program throughout the fourteen precincts of the town.

The residential chairmen have been kept busy for several months in preparation for the kick-off of the drive this week. The district chairmen include the following: Francis J. Higgins, 86 Marathon Street, district 1; Philip J. O'Neal, 148 Broadway, district 2; Mrs. Rodney T. Robertson, 11 Eliot Road, district 4; Mrs. Gordon P. Thompson, 37 Brentwood road, district 6; Mrs. Herbert E. Thompson, 51 Maynard road, district 7; Mrs. James McBean, 111 Gloucester street, district 8; Mrs. Harold E. Magnus, 10 Upland road, district 9; Mrs. Ehrich E. M. Schreier, 179 Highland Avenue, district 10; Mrs. William Stirling, 49 Huntington road, district 13; and Frederick S. Glynn, 91 Valentine road, district 14.

MILITARY HONORS FOR DEAD VETERAN

Final military honors were given Thomas F. McCarthy, 54, of 68 Hamlet street, a veteran of World War One, who died suddenly at his place of employment in Boston Saturday, Sept. 10.

Services were held on Wednesday morning, September 14, with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Agnes Church.

Mr. McCarthy had been associated with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for more than thirty years. He was a member of the Alexander Graham Bell post, A. L., of Boston, and St. Agnes Holy Name Society of Arlington. In addition to his wife, he leaves one daughter, Miss Rosemary McCarthy, at home. Also two brothers, James McCarthy of Allston and William McCarthy of Lawrence and one sister, Miss Margaret McCarthy of Brookline.

Red Cross Bloodmobile In Arlington Oct. 6

The Red Cross bloodmobile will return to Arlington, October 6, for the collection of badly needed blood for the benefit of the men, women and children in veterans, civilian and military hospitals, Dr. Richard Moran, blood donor chairman, said today.

Registration have already begun here and may be made by calling Arlington 5-6540.

In local hospitals and in other medical institutions throughout the State, the contributors to the Red Cross program have made it possible to distribute more than 2000 pints of blood monthly.

Dr. Moran said that to maintain these figures and to boost them higher, in order to meet all needs, every local resident should assume the responsibility of making it a point to donate.

When the bloodmobile crew, consisting of a doctor, nurses, technicians and Red Cross volunteers, sets up its equipment at St. John's Episcopal Parish Hall, Pleasant st. more than 125 donors will be needed to make the day a success.

The chairman emphasized the success or failure will be felt in the hospitals when doctors need blood for their patients.

Following the dedication exercises held recently for the new wing of the Symmes Arlington Hospital, which included brief exercises attended by members of the Board of Trustees and their friends and various representatives of the medical profession, the new wing, to be known as the Francis E. and Mabel E. Thompson Wing, will be open to the public for inspection on Saturday and Sunday, September 24 and 25, from two until eight p.m.

The planning which went into the erection of the new hospital wing is the last word in hospital construction, and the result of many months of intensive study into the needs of this particular community.

The modern equipment which has been installed in the three story building, from the boiler room to the kitchens, dining room and including hospital rooms and wards, as well as the new operating rooms, stand the equal of any hospital facilities of a like nature throughout the country.

Speaking at the dedicatory exercises, Dr. George P. Towle, president of the medical staff of the hospital, praised the board of trustees for their insight into the growing needs of the community for such an addition, and as he stated, found little to criticize from the "concrete up to the rough steel girders." Realizing he stated, that there is a great deal of money tied up in the project, it must also be realized that a good deal of additional money must be tied up to keep the new addition functioning. Administrator E. Vernon Rich also stressed the intensive planning which went into the building of the new wing, and believes that "every cent which went into the building has been exceedingly well spent." He also spoke of the deep appreciation given the efforts of the building committee, in the development of the ambitious building program, during which neither time nor thought was spared by the committee in the furtherance of the completion of their goal.

The President of the Board of Trustees, Ernest W. Davis, spoke briefly at the dedicatory exercises and expressed his great pride in the completion of the new wing. He also stated that the building committee is well satisfied with the work of the contractor, and appreciates the team work and cooperation which went into the work.

"Life Without Oil"

What would a woman's life be like without oil? One woman answers that question by saying, "I literally shiver. There wouldn't be any gasoline for the car, fuel oil for the furnace, or any of the hundreds of other oil products that make life really livable."

"Thousands of women use products like cosmetics or medicines or some of the modern plastics, for example unaware that these things wouldn't even exist if it weren't for oil. They would learn quickly, though, if they had to live the way women lived before oil was discovered. Almost everyone went to bed at night fall. Candles and whale oil were luxuries. Two-thirds of the people were isolated on farms and travel was a dream that rarely came true. . . . There were no 'labor-saving devices,' no stores lined with shelves of machine-made products."

"The next time you drive your car, or pour paraffin on your preserves, or use your favorite cold cream, you'll be using one of the good things made by the discovery of oil just 90 years ago."

Ninety years is only a long lifetime. But in that passage of time there have been incredible changes in the world. It is amazing how many of them were the result, direct or indirect, of the discovery of oil and the development of the great industry which produces and processes and distributes it.

"Death End Street"

"Death End Street" is a bizarre title and its story is shocking. It was somberly presented to the nation on the "We The People" show recently and it left many people aghast.

"Death End Street" is the story of six little fellows who've been killed by automobiles on a single block in Brooklyn and the bitter pals they're left behind. With sudden death wiping out their playmates and sending nearly a score of others to the hospitals, the youth of "Death End Street" rebelled and after a bitter attack on motorists of the area, set up their own safety measure.

Parading with placards, patrolling with signs asking for slow speed and caution, the youngsters control the street, asking for the right to live.

There's no "Death End Street" in our town, we don't have to ask the youngsters to patrol the streets for their own safety.

But "Death End Street" is an indictment of every motorist and a challenge to every citizen. The Brooklyn youngsters on Dan Seymour's show issued a plea to other little fellows to help them prevent useless slaughter. It's not for the kids to accept this challenge alone. Make sure that you never drive down a "Death End Street" in this or any other town!

Park Avenue Church Officers Hold Retreat

At the annual retreat held for the officers and committee chairmen of the Park Avenue Congregational church, at the Farrington Memorial in Lincoln, Frank L. Lincoln, moderator, the various committee chairmen presented plan for the coming year and outlined the comprehensive church program. Rev. Milton Frederick Schadege, in summarizing the evening's accomplishments, stressed especially the large amount of planning for the youth of the church, which youth program is laid out with the thought of providing not only Christian instruction, but wholesome entertainment and recreation from the cradle up through the teen-age groups, which ambitious program is to be under the direct leadership of Rev. Edward Bauman, Jr., the assistant minister.

Storm Floods Pike—Cuts Off Power Here

A heavy thundershower, lasting about an hour, struck the Lexington-Arlington-Bedford area, halting traffic in Arlington on the Concord turnpike for more than an hour Wednesday afternoon of last week, and cutting off electricity in the East Lexington district for more than two hours.

For nearly three hours, the section, starting about a mile from the Arlington line on Massachusetts avenue, and running through the Follen road and Locust avenue areas in Lexington, was without lights. The storm had felled several power lines.

Arlington reported many flooded cellars and several traffic tie-ups. The most serious traffic jam was on the turnpike at the Pleasant street underpass. There the water rose so high that autos were unable to move in either direction for more than an hour.

Schoolmen Of Mass. Hold Opening Meeting

Community Church Of Boston To Open Services Next Week

Many Arlingtonians will be pleased to learn that The Community Church of Boston, the city's non-sectarian church, will open its services Sunday, October 2nd at 10:30 A.M. in the new John Hancock Hall at the corner of Berkeley and Stuart Sts. The church, founded in 1920, commences its thirtieth of continuous public services.

The Rev. Donald G. Lothrop, minister of the church, released today the high lights of the program for the coming year. The first service will be a Memorial to Dr. Clarence R. Skinner who passed away at Stamford, Conn. on August 27th. Dr. Skinner, formerly Dean of Tufts College School of Religion, was the founder of the Community Church and served as its minister from 1920 to 1936. Dr. John Haynes Holmes will be one of those to participate in the Memorial. Among the others to occupy the pulpit on succeeding Sunday mornings will be Dr. Frederick L. Schuman of Williams College; Ted O. Thackrey, Editor of the Daily Compass; F. Alexander Magoun, author of "Love and Marriage"; Dr. Jerome Davis; Dr. J. Raymond Walsh; Rabbi Abraham J. Klausner, new spiritual leader of Temple Israel; the Hon. Henry A. Wallace; Judge Thurmond Arnold; Dr. Scott Nearing; Rev. Harry E. Ward; Arthur Gaeth; Paul Blanshard; Dr. Anna Louise Strong; Carey McWilliams; Dr. W. E. B. DuBois; Dr. Kirtley F. Mather; Dr. Mary van Kleeck; Rabbi Barnett R. Brickner; Louis Adamic; Roger Baldwin; and other outstanding personalities.

In addition to the public Sunday services at John Hancock Hall, the Community Church conducts a full time weekday program at The Church Center in Copley Square. Courses in "Psychiatry," "Great Books" and "Economics" are planned as well as a weekly Forum Supper. The Young People's Society meets each Sunday evening. A Marriage Consultation Service under the direction of a competent physician will also be commenced during this Thirtieth Anniversary year of the church. The Community Church knows no barrier of race, creed or color. Its membership is open to all without creedal tests of belief.

SERVICES FOR W. W. REEVES

Memorial services were held on Monday evening at the A. E. Long Memorial Chapel, Cambridge, by the Arlington Lodge of B. P. O. E. for Wadsworth W. Reeves, 54, of 94 Waverly street, who passed away on Monday at a Cambridge hospital.

A resident of this town for eight years, Mr. Reeves was a native of Cambridge, and a retired employee of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company. He was a prominent member of the Arlington B.P.O.E. His wife, Lila, survives him. Funeral services will be strictly private at Whatley, Massachusetts.

Arlington Hadassah Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the Arlington Chapter of Hadassah was held at the Arlington Academy of Music on Tuesday evening, Sept. 13.

In opening the meeting, Mrs. Meyer Bernan, president, extended greetings to all members and expressed the hope that the good work of the past would be carried on with renewed efforts. She announced that a book review will be given at the home of Mrs. David H. Gorsh, 1027 Massachusetts avenue, on Thursday evening, October 6th. Mrs. Leo Koretsky will review "The Track of the Cat" by Walter Van Tilburg Clark.

Mrs. I. M. Sholkin urged all members who are "skilled with the needle" to start working now and be prepared to display their hand work at a Fair to be held on November 1.

The donor luncheon, this year, will be held Dec. 6 at the Balinese Room of the Hotel Somerset.

Mrs. Max Gerber, Chairman of Youth Aliyah, announced that the chief fund-raising project for the coming year is the embroidering of a table cloth and invited all members, their families and friends to have their names placed on the cloth.

A most enlightening talk on the meaning of Zionism, and a complete review of events in the growth of the State of Israel were given by Mrs. Asher Specator, Chairman of political Education.

Mrs. Hyman Garber held the lucky number for a pair of nylon hose given as a door prize. An informal social hour followed the business meeting.

to all residents of Arlington to attend the open house this coming Saturday and Sunday, and take advantage of this opportunity of examining one of the finest projects ever erected along these lines in the entire country.

TO SEEK BIDS FOR NEW BRIDGE

Representative Henry E. Keenan has announced that bids for the Elliot Street Bridge, which will run from the Memorial Drive on the Cambridge side, to the Soldier Field Parkway, back of the Harvard Stadium, are now open. Mr. Keenan states that this bridge will be of great benefit to the residents of Arlington traveling to Boston, and will tie in with the new Embankment road, the contract for which will shortly be awarded. It is estimated that the Elliot street bridge and the Embankment Parkway will be completed by the end of 1950.

PAY BOOST SOUGHT FOR LOCAL OFFICIALS

A pay boost for town officials will be sought at the special town meeting in Arlington, called for Monday evening, October 17th, along with other important matters contained in the warrant drawn up by the Board of Selectmen at their recent meeting.

Arlington High Fights Way To 12-7 Comeback Over Newton

With hard-running Don O'Brien powering through the line for two touchdowns, Arlington high school's gridiron forces fought their way to a 12-7 comeback victory over Newton High at Dickinson Stadium last Saturday to get the 1949 season off to an auspicious start.

O'Brien's first tally climaxed a 88-yard march in the second quarter, while his second plunge into paydirt climaxed a 27 yard parade which followed a Newton fumble.

Arlington outgained their rivals on the ground, and piled up 13 first downs to seven for the home team, but it was the Newton fumble late in the final quarter which enabled the local forces to win.

With a hard charging line dominating the play during most of the game, Arlington used O'Brien and hard-running Paul Salisbury, to pile up most of the yardage. John Cosgrove looked good with his southpaw passing on occasion and handled the club well.

Arlington broke the ice in the second period, when they started on the 12 where Salisbury intercepted a Newton pass. Salisbury hit inside the tackles for consistent gains, with O'Brien going off tackle and circling the ends. O'Brien scored from the nine as he shot outside the left flank for the tally.

Newton sparked a third period score following recovery of a fumble by "Little Lucy" Luciano, 220 young guard, on the Arlington 29. Ralph Barison passed to Dan Coffey to the 11 yard line. Arlington fought gamely but the Newton team eked out a first down inside the one. The forward wall of the Toczykowski eleven stopped two plays short of the goal line, but Joe Wright bucked into the line for the tally. Barisano held while Evans place-kicked the extra point.

Arlington took advantage of a fourth down fumble as Paul Bil- after recovered an attempted punt which failed, on the Newton 29.

Cosgrove sparked the drive with a pass to Dick DeRosas, reserve end, which made it a first down on the four yard line. Salisbury picked up a yard, then another, and O'Brien slashed through tackle for the winning touchdown.

The Barison passing attack to Newton Captain Doug. Evans, Burt Peck and Dan Coffey kept the home team in the hard-fought game most of the way, but when the fumbles evened up, Arlington was in.

The summary:

ARLINGTON — Oppedisano, Symanski, le; Albertelli, Kelly, lt; Tartarina, lg; Orrington, c; Tobin, Kenesly, rg; Rindoni, rt; Hill, DeRosas, re; Cosgrove, Myers, qb; Salisbury, lhb; O'Brien, rhh; Muello, Meehan, Bilafer, fb.

"Here's the Pitch"

By "Bump" Hadley

WBZ, WBZ-TV Sportscaster and
Former Major League Pitcher

NEVER BEFORE, at least in my memory, have there been so many candidates for the title, "Manager of the Year."

Either some of the major league teams were a lot stronger than expected, or else some of the master-minding has been sensational. My personal candidate would be Robert "Red" Rolfe, the old Dartmouth Wah-Hoo-Wah, now manager of the Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers were strictly a second division ball club, and Rolfe has them in third place, without any major trades, or brilliant play. They've made it on spirit alone!

Right now, the popular choice appears to be Eddie Sawyer, manager of the Phils in the National League. Eddie has the Phils in third place, the best they've done since 1932. Not only that, but the Phils have a young and hustling ball club. They could easily be the team of the future.

Few people picked the New York Yankees any better than third. So if the Yankees win the flag, there'll be some voting for Casey Stengel. Ole Casey may get it, too, inasmuch as the New York Chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association has more members than any other chapter, and therefore exerts more influence.

If by any change, the Red Sox should accomplish the baseball miracle and win the pennant, you'll have to give Joe McCarthy credit for a great job.

Don't forget Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals, who appears headed for a pennant with his "Nine Old Men." Dyer must have used more than trick mirrors to accomplish that feat.

ARLINGTON RED DEVILS TO PLAY KNUTE ROCKNE CLUB IN KICKOFF GAME SUNDAY

The Arlington Red Devils will begin their home schedule this coming Sunday, September 25th at the Arlington High School Stadium. Kickoff will be at 2:15 p.m.

The opponent will be the newly organized Knute Rockne Club of Boston who have combined with other Boston teams in making one large team. They are coached by a former B. C. backfield player, who, under Denny Myers, learned a lot of tricky plays which he will try out on the Devils.

This will be the first in a series of home games the Devils management has arranged.

The R.D.'s this year appear to be the best team of their existence as many of last year's players have returned. Tiger Graham will again handle the quarterback slot and Bob Nickols will be the fullback. A new halfback has been found to replace Paul Wells who rejoined the service. He is Cut Coutomas who is the fastest man on the team. He is a natural ball carrier and is as shifty as Moose Muello, former star halfback for the Devils. The line will include Fran Miller and Mike DiAngelo at the end positions whom, with their magnetized hands, will be responsible for a lot of first downs. The tackles will be the best ever with Vin Sweeney and Red Carew, two of the best in semi-pro. Guards will include Fran White, a 215 lb. player who will take up a lot of room and open big holes for the backfield to run through. Jimmy Judge will cover the other guard slot weighing 195 lbs. The centers will be the two Rich brothers and Loopy Farrington. The brothers will play offensively and Loopy will cover that position defensively. The brothers both weigh over 190 lbs. and will hold the middle of the line intact. Loopy is small but is a good player to back up the line as he is always in the opponents' backfield making tackles. Along with the other members of the team, the Devils will be a hard team to beat.

October 2nd, the Devils play the Bedford Air Base, comprised of all Army posts in Massachusetts.

October 9th, Readville comes to Arlington and they have a record of 1 win and 1 defeat against the R.D.'s. Both games have been decided by one touchdown, the home team taking the first game 7 to 0 and Readville winning the second one 6 to 0.

October 16th, the Neponset V. F. W. will compete against the Devils. This team is a highly rated club and will be no pushover.

October 23rd, the Hyde Park Merchants come to town with the biggest line in the state. They have an average line of 205 lbs. and it will give the Devils a tough battle.

November 6th will wind up the home schedule and a better team could not be picked for the finale. The famous Dorchester Falcons will invade Arlington. They have been playing semi-pro football for the last 9 years. They have one of the fastest backfields in New England and will undoubtedly be the toughest opponent of the season. A game has been tried to be arranged with these two teams for the past three years but the Falcons have been in such demand that it has been impossible to do. They have played and defeated every top team in Massachusetts and will attempt to include the Devils in their conquests.

Arlington Council Of Churches Conducting Census This Week

The Arlington Council of Churches is conducting a religious census this week in an organized effort to determine the church affiliations of the residents of the town. The census started on Sunday, September 18, and will continue through the week.

Twelve member churches of the Council are taking part in the drive, each church having been allotted certain districts bounded by the precincts of the community.

In charge of the census is Dale Barker and Rev. Halsey I. Andrews, who are assisted by representatives of the various churches participating.

Each parish has organized its own committee, with from fifty to one hundred volunteers taking part, each of whom is equipped with questionnaires, identifying authorization and other essential information.

At the end of the house-to-house canvass, the results will be tabulated and will ultimately serve as a basis to the various churches for future planning.

The participating churches, divided as to precincts, are listed as follows: Church of Our Saviour, (1); Trinity Baptist (2); Universalist (3); Calvary (4); St. John Episcopal, Pleasant St. Congregational and Unitarian (5), (6), (7) and (8); First Baptist Church (9); and (10); Heights Methodist (11); Trinity Lutheran (12); Heights Baptist (13); Park Avenue Congregational (14).

Reports to the PRESS show that not only are the various church committees functioning with top efficiency, but the public throughout the town is responding with great cooperation and fine spirit, and furnishing the canvassers with all possible information.

DEDICATED TO THE PUBLIC INTEREST...

Today we dedicate to service in the public interest the largest electrical generating unit ever installed in New England. On the basis of preliminary tests we believe that it is today the most efficient and economical steam electric generating unit in the world — measured by the amount of fuel necessary to produce a kilowatt-hour of electricity. With Edgar No. 4 on the line, Boston Edison now has a total generating capacity of 639,160 kilowatts, as compared with 389,160 kilowatts ten years ago.

Thus the electrical needs of Greater Boston — its industries, its commercial establishments, its homes — are being anticipated. The completion of Edgar No. 4 is the first major step in a program of construction involving very large capital outlays over the next few years. The necessary funds are being provided by individuals, insurance companies, and financial institutions who, by their purchase of Boston Edison securities, are demonstrating that they share our confidence in the future growth and prosperity of the New England area.
